

The Best Foods To Donate To your Food Drive

Foods high in fat, oils and sugar provide calories, but few nutrients. These foods make up a high percentage of many diets because they are inexpensive and easy to obtain.

It is therefore important to provide healthful foods for those with limited financial resources to supplement their restricted choices with healthy alternatives.

A key point to highlight is that while an overweight person may look well-fed, they may be filling up on calorie-dense food that does not contain the nutrients their body needs. Take a look at the food groups below to help guide you in providing healthy choices.
